

Flood plain maps received by Fiscal Court

Monroe County has received the official flood plain maps as part of the Flood Prevention Plan as set forth by the Federal Emergency Management Agency, and the Monroe County Fiscal Court discussed the implications for County residents at their regular meeting held March 15.

Director of Emergency Management, David Rich, informed the Court of his plan to incorporate the individual flood plain districts onto the index map so that County residents will be able to see exactly where their property lies in relation to the flood plain. That is important, Rich explained, so that anyone in the flood plain can seek flood insurance before the projected July 17 implementation of the program. After the program goes into effect, he said, insurance premiums are sure to be much higher-maybe even as much as double. (The News plans to run a story showing the flood plain map and individual districts the first week of April.)

Court members also heard from Darrell Price and Greg Meredith with Rural Secondary Program who explained the proposed 2012-2013 program for rural secondary roads. The projected allotment is $1,227,705, of which $556,600 will go to routine maintenance and traffic on approximately 128 miles of rural secondary roads at a cost of $4348.40 per mile. $3,862 will go to County/judge expenses and $224,362 to flex funds for projects in individual magisterial districts.

Price also told the group that the plan includes resurfacing 4.21 miles of KY 870 (Mud Lick-Flippin Road) beginning at the intersection with Ky 1366 and extending northerly to the intersection with KY 63, for a total of 4.2 miles, and 1.79 miles of KY 87 (Bugtussle Road) beginning at the north end of the Cane Creek Road and extending northerly to the new pavement at mile point 5.15.

In other business, the Court approved the second reading and adoption to amend the Flood Damage Prevention Ordinance:

- Re-appointed Ronnie Smith to the Fountain Run Water District;
- Appointed Donnie Peden to the Monroe County In-

Monroe County High School Baseball and Softball teams will be featured next week, followed by track the next week.

Former Gamaliel mayor dies at age 55

Former Gamaliel Mayor James Mitchell Spear, age 55, died March 12, 2012 at his home in Gamaliel.

He served as Mayor from January 1993 through 1998, after serving a year as City Commissioner. He also had been active in the Tompkinsville/Monroe County Chamber of Commerce, serving as a member of the Board of Directors, and was a charter member of the Board of Directors of the Monroe County Economic Development Center.

He had been an employee of Monroe County Press, Inc. and of the Tompkinsville Printing Co.

He is survived by a brother, Marty Spear, Gamaliel, and a nephew, Jason Spear, Bowling Green.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, March 15, at Strode's Gamaliel Chapel.

Other details about his background, survivors and funeral arrangements can be found on page A4 of this issue.

FORUM planned to discuss SECONDHAND SMOKE in the workplace

A county forum to discuss the effect of secondhand smoke on workers' health will be held Tuesday night, March 27, at Tubby's Auction, 505 No. Main Street in Tompkinsville. The forum is planned from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

You are invited to attend the forum, hear the facts about secondhand smoke in the workplace and the options available, and express your opinion.

The program will include a panel of speakers made up of local health care professionals and business representatives. Following their presentation will be an opportunity for the public to speak on why they support or oppose a comprehensive smoke-free policy in Monroe County.

You are urged to attend and make your voice heard

A meal will be served, so those planning to attend are asked to call Dyshel Thompson at 487-6782 or Amy Hutchinson at 487-1368.

The forum is sponsored by Monroe County CARES (Citizens Advocating Responsible EnvironmentS) and the Monroe County Health Department.

Storm shelters a possibility for Fountain Run

Fountain Run may be able to have storm shelters established, Fountain Run Commissioners learned during their regular monthly meeting on Monday, March 12.

Commissioner Larry Shaw told the group that he had spoken with County Judge/executive Tommy Willett about the need for such shelters and receiving grant funding for establishment of such shelters throughout the county.

Shaw added he had also spoken with State Representative Bart Rowland about getting funding for the project as well with shelters to be established in Fountain Run, Gamaliel and Tompkinsville.

Commissioners further reminded the public that in the event of bad weather, the basement of Fountain Run First Baptist Church is designated as a storm shelter for anyone in the community who might need shelter.

In other items of business, the Commission:

- Approved a bid for E.A. Bigg's for soil at the ball field located in the city park;
- Approved advertising for bids for having Franklin Street repaved;
- Discussed a tile at the entrance of Franklin Street; and
- Received a bid to have the community building pressure washed from Caleb Shipley for $150.

Health insurance to continue for City of Gamaliel employees

Employees of the City of Gamaliel will continue to receive health insurance after Gamaliel City Commissioners reviewed bids at the regularly scheduled Commission meeting held Monday, March 12.

Commissioners voted to accept the bid provided by America's Health Team in the amount of $1,089.50 per month to insure the City's five employees that participate in the insurance program.

Five different bid options were supplied from

PUBLIC URGED TO ATTEND FORUM ON WORKERS' HEALTH AND SECONDHAND SMOKE

You are invited to attend a forum next Tuesday night, March 27, concerning workplace safety and the health of Monroe County workers as this relates to secondhand smoke.

The forum will be held at the Main Street Auction building, 505 No. Main Street in Tompkinsville (across from McDonald's), starting at 6 p.m.

As you may know, a "Clean-Air" bill is now pending in the Kentucky State Legislature, and many Kentucky communities have already adopted smoke-free workplace policies.

At this forum, you will have an opportunity to hear the facts on this issue, learn about the options and express your opinion on what Monroe County should do about secondhand smoke in the workplace.

I am personally in favor of a clean-air ordinance because I have first-hand knowledge of the harmful effects smoking and secondhand smoke have on a person's health.

Whether you agree with me or not, I hope you will plan to attend the forum. Since food will be provided at no charge, please call 487-6782 or 487-1368 if you plan to attend.

According to Kentucky State Trooper Logan Richardson's report, the 1988 Chevrolet pickup driven by Facio was traveling northbound when he apparently lost control and struck an earth embankment. Facio, who was not belted, was ejected from the vehicle and pronounced deceased at the scene by the Monroe County Coroner. A passenger in vehicle, Mario Alejandre, 34, was belted and transported to T.J. Samson hospital where he was treated and released.

Richardson noted that it was suspected that alcohol and speed are contributing factors in the collision. KSP was assisted at the scene by the Monroe County Sheriff's Department, Monroe County EMS, and the Monroe County Coroner.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY ENTERING HOME STRETCH OF 2012 SESSION

This past week's warm temperatures are a sign that we are entering the Spring season, and it's also a sign that the Kentucky General Assembly is entering the home stretch of the 2012 Legislative Session. With the majority of budget bills now in the Senate, the House focused this past week on several key bills.

House Bill 481, which continues the fight in Kentucky against the sale of synthetic drugs, was approved by the full House of Representatives. During the 2011 Legislative Session we passed legislation into law that banned the sale of so-called "bath salts." House Bill 481 expands the ban on synthetic drugs to include synthetic forms of marijuana sold in shops under product names like "Spice" and "Scooby Snacks."

Synthetic drugs are a great danger to our communities and especially our young people. One of the co-sponsors of House Bill 481, Rep. C.B. Embry, Jr. of Morgantown, has previously stated that two young people living in his district recently died as a result of using synthetic marijuana. It is essential that we as legislators and those in law enforcement stay one step ahead of those who make and distribute synthetic drugs.

While the general operating budget bill has moved on to the Senate, we did approve the proposed two-year spending plan for Kentucky's transportation system in the full House on Friday. Unlike recent monthly revenue reports on our general fund, Kentucky's road fund has been doing well, up so far at a rate of 7.5 percent from the beginning of the current fiscal year. Even with that growth, there is little money available in our road fund to fund the multitude of projects in our six-year road plan and at the same time provide upkeep and maintenance of the more than 27,000 miles of highway and bridges currently in the Commonwealth's transportation infrastructure.

One bill that won't be voted on this year is House Bill 26, which would establish a random drug screening system for Kentuckians who receive some form of public assistance. This bill was heard but not voted upon in the House Health and Welfare Committee because the committee chairman is personally opposed to the proposal despite the fact it has 64 co-sponsors from both sides of the aisle.

Whether you agree or disagree on the idea of random drug screenings for those on public assistance, it is simply wrong for one person to determine whether or not a bill receives a vote in committee or on the floor of the Kentucky House of Representatives. We are all elected to serve roughly the same number of people, and it is imperative that all voices be heard when it comes to proposed legislation.

As always, I welcome your comments and concerns for the upcoming session. I can be reached through the toll-free message line in Frankfort at 1-800-372-7181. A taped message containing information on legislative committee meeting schedules is available by calling 1-800-633-9650, and information on the status of each bill is available by calling 1-866-840-2835. If you have Internet access, I can be reached at bart.rowland@lrc.ky.gov, or you may keep track of legislation through the Kentucky Legislature Home Page at www.lrc.ky.gov.

other carriers ranging from $1337.66 per month to $2275.92 per month.

Commissioners also discussed their plan to open the City Park the first weekend in April and set a date of March 24 to hold a clean-up day there as part of the statewide PRIDE program. T-shirts and lunch will be provided to community volunteers that help with the park clean-up according to Mayor Carol Wheeler. March 30 was set as a "rain" date in case bad weather prevented the clean-up on the original date.

In other business, Commissioners:

— Heard a report from Commissioner Michael Webb concerning the City's garbage truck. Webb told the group that the City is waiting on bids or estimates to finalize needed repairs;

— Heard a report from Wheeler concerning dumping at the sewer plant. She told the group that dumping was "out of hand" and the group agreed to clean up what has already been dumped and to put up "No Dumping" signs; — Agreed to get an extra line at the Police Department to be used as a fax line at a cost of $5 per month. The new number will be 270-457-2903; and — Agreed to modify the "drop box" at City Hall to increase security as some payments have reportedly been stolen.

Is your home air conditioner ready for spring and summer?

Temperatures are on the rise, but that doesn't mean your energy bill needs to increase too. There are a number of ways you can keep your home cool and your energy bills in check this season.

Is your air conditioner operating optimally? If you have a central air conditioning system, it's important to get it checked by an HVAC/R professional. Do some comparison shopping -- special deals are easy to come by on seasonal preventative maintenance. Be advised, however, that the expertise of HVAC/R technicians can vary widely.

Though the HVAC/R industry does not require technicians to take mandatory competency tests, you can help ensure a job well done by opting for a technician certified by North American Technician Excellence (NATE), the nation's largest independent, non-profit certification body for HVAC/R technicians. NATE-certified technicians are qualified to properly install and service equipment, which translates to maximum home comfort and energy savings.

Once you know your air conditioning system is running efficiently, there are several things you can do to keep energy bills to a minimum:

- Keep air conditioner units clear of plants and debris. Obstructing airflow will reduce the unit's efficiency.
- Raise the thermostat. Each degree saves a percentage off your cooling energy bill.
- Check air filters every couple of weeks and change them at least twice during the season, or as directed by the manufacturer.
- Review last year's energy bills. If your cooling costs are drastically higher this year, a qualified HVAC/R technician can help diagnose any problems.

Don't forget, even the most eco-friendly, high-efficiency products and appliances can waste money and energy if they're not installed, serviced and maintained properly. By working with certified technicians, homeowners can have confidence that their HVAC/R equipment is delivering on the energy efficiency promised.

When scheduling an air conditioning check-up, be sure to request a NATE-certified technician. To find a qualified local contractor who employs certified technicians, look for the NATE logo or go to HVACRAAdvice.com.

By making sure your air conditioning system is operating efficiently and by adopting a few energy-friendly habits, you can maintain a cool home while keeping energy costs down.

About People

Lightfoot - Peden wed

Lindsey Lightfoot and Dustin Peden

Lindsey Lightfoot and Dustin Peden were married on Saturday, Oct. 1, 2011 at five o'clock in the afternoon.

The ceremony was officiated by Dr. Jeff Carlisle on a fairway of the Indian Hills Country Club in Bowling Green.

A garden arbor adorned with a crystal chandelier served as the altar, and a string ensemble performed the music for the ceremony. Coincidentally, just as the minister pronounced them husband and wife, the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers scored a touchdown at the WKU stadium, and cannons were fired in celebration.

The wedding was followed by a dinner reception at the Indian Hills Country Club.

The bride is the daughter of Bob and Jackie Lightfoot of Smiths Grove. She is the granddaughter of Annemarie Bryce and Bill Fisher and the late Eugene Bryce of Smiths Grove and the late Robert and Ida Lightfoot of Bowling Green.

The groom is the son of Donnie and Mary Peden of Gamaliel. He is the grandson of Cecile Boyles and the late Milton Boyles of Gamaliel and the late Hugh Donald Peden of Temple Hill and of Ann Beth Moore and the late Carol Moore of Tompkinsville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory Pronovias gown, with a series of layered ruffles on the mermaid-style skirt. She wore a birdcage-style veil, detailed with a white flower and feathers and carried a hand-tied bouquet of mixed white flowers and white feathers.

The bride's sister, Sarah Lightfoot of Smiths Grove, served as the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Whitney Henderson, South Fulton, Tenn.; Mallory Johnson, Madisonville; Kristan Vollman, Calhoun; and Kari Walker, Spooner, Wis.

The groom's brother, Drew Peden of Gamaliel, served as the best man. Groomsmen were Josh Anderson, Tompkinsville; Daniel Harlan, Davenport, Iowa; Josh Roper, Bowling Green; and Treg Turner, Gamaliel.

Adam Jackson and Blake Jackson, both of Bowling Green, and Caleb Johnson, Memphis, Tenn., served as ushers.

The bride's cousin, Berkley Bryce, Smiths Grove, served as the flower girl, and the groom's cousin, Wade Carnahan, Tompkinsville, served as the ring bearer.

After a honeymoon trip to Mexico, the couple now resides in Bowling Green.

Both the bride and the groom will graduate in May 2012 from the University of Kentucky as Doctors of Pharmacy.

Coburn - Gearlds wed

Rhonda Coburn and Ricky Gearlds

Ricky and Rhonda (Coburn) Gearlds began their journey of marriage on Dec. 31, 2011. The couple celebrated the joyous occasion in a private ceremony on the Duncan Hines Dining Car at the Historic L&N Train Depot in Bowling Green. The ceremony was performed by Michael Thomason of Glasgow, with a special memorial and prayer given by Gene Gearlds, brother of the groom.

Donna (Coulter) Williams of Glasgow served as matron of honor, as Cory Gearlds of Bowling Green served as best man.

The couple read vows, which were written by each of them, and exchanged rings. The couple was joined by their children, Justin Gearlds, Cory Gearlds, Joshua Williams, and Amy (Carter) Gearlds, in pouring sand from individual vases into one container. This represented the blending of the two families.

In keeping with the theme, guests were served a traditional train-ride meal prepared by the staff of HBH and served by Emily Johnson, niece of the bride, along with Connor Richardson and Katie Copas. Guests were also served individual mini wedding cakes prepared by Tracy Dukes of Glasgow and served by Tracy (Coburn) Johnson, sister of the bride, Emily Johnson, and Donna Williams.

As guests departed the dining car, they were escorted to the Post Office car for memento photographs by Kensie Smith.

The couple then departed the train and traveled to Edmonton for a validation ceremony at Christ the Healer Catholic Church. Rev. Lawrence Gelthaus conducted the ceremony. The bride's parents and family were in attendance.

Rhonda is the daughter of Vonda (Cornwell) and Kay Dunagan and the late Jim Coburn. Ricky is the son of Edward and Corina Gearlds.

The couple resides in Tompkinsville.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
Michael A. Guido
Metter, Georgia

Lord Garvagh, running as a liberal candidate in 1832, was greeted with such indifference by the British electorate, that he became the first person to poll no votes in a general election.

But there's another person who deserves no votes — the devil.

The Lord's voting for you, and the devil's voting for you. You must take sides. Pilate raised a question that must be answered by every person: "What shall I do with Jesus?"

The choice lies between eternal delight and eternal despair, the Lord and the devil.

To reject the Lord is to vote for the devil. You will receive the Lord, won't you?

Purple Martins arrive in Kentucky

In the birding world, few species generate more excitement than does the “Purple Martin,” a swallow that is arriving now in Kentucky, with reports of “scouts” logged almost daily online.

Purple martins, the largest of the swallows in North America, are totally dependent on man-made housing east of the Rockies and faithfully return to the same locations each year, so it’s understandable that human “landlords” anxiously await the return of “their” birds from wintering grounds in South America.

Some of the earliest arrivals to Kentucky trickle in by early March – a few in February some years -- and dates/locations are watched by martin enthusiasts nationally on an online database, www.purplemartin.org, maintained by the Purple Martin Conservation Association (PMCA), a nonprofit conservation organization.

The earliest arriving martins recorded in Kentucky this season was Feb. 21 in Henderson, a very early bird. Other early arrivals were spotted in Benton on March 1; Brandenburg on March 12; Bowling Green on March 14 and Pikeville on March 15.

The first wave of arrivals consists of so-called “adult” martins – those two or more years old, with adult males sporting full dark-purple color. Females are a bit drab, with a gray breast. One-year-old martins, called “subadults”, arrive 6 to 8 weeks later than the older birds – well into May and even early June. These younger birds sometimes are more easily attracted to new housing locations.

Purple martins prefer to nest in colonies in gourds hung from large racks and in multi-compartment bird-houses. The birds nest throughout Kentucky with the greatest populations central and western, with substantial but fewer colonies in more mountainous eastern Kentucky.

Purple martins feed on the wing, taking insects from the air. Early arrivals sometimes face the prospect of starvation when cold snaps clear the air of insects. However, hobbyists have learned to supplemental feed purple martins during cold spells.

A PDF information sheet about supplemental feeding -- the techniques are still new to many hobbyists -- can be found at the PMCA’s website at www.purplemartin.org, which includes a link to an instructional video produced by Kentucky martin guru, Larry Melcher.

Although once believed improbable, it’s been shown that purple martins – when no other food is available -- will learn to accept crickets, mealworms and even bits of scrambled eggs flipped high into the air, and placed on high platform feeders or inside nest compartments.

The PMCA recently analyzed long-term data from the North American Breeding Bird Survey (BBS) and found that thanks to devoted men and women who erect and maintain housing, purple martin populations overall are holding steady in North America, with exceptions in some states. They appear to be slowly increasing most parts of Kentucky.

Purple martin colonies can be found in several Kentucky parks and nature reserves, including a robust colony at Bernheim Arboretum near Clermont, and another at the Woodlands Nature Center at Land Between the Lakes, Golden Pond.

Purple martins gather in massive roosts in late summer in preparation for fall migration. One of the largest in North America is on an island in Dale Hollow Reservoir, which straddles the TN-KY line. Some martin enthusiasts who have visited the roost believe it may contain upwards to 100,000 birds in early August.

Despite relative abundance of purple martins in Kentucky, many people try for years to attract them without success, or find that their colonies disappear. Hobbyists may be unaware that problems such as competition from invasive non-native birds such as European starlings and House Sparrows, or predation caused abandonment.

While generations of Americans have hosted purple martins, a custom adopted from Native Americans who hung out nesting gourds, specific techniques to help a colony thrive emerged in the past decade, based on research conducted by the PMCA and landlords in the field.

Among innovations are deeper compartments to protect nestlings from rain and aerial predators such as owls, specially shaped entrance holes designed to admit martins while restricting starlings, and unique pole guards to thwart climbing predators such as rat snakes and raccoons.

Because purple martins are birds of the open sky (catching insects on the fly) the PMCA’s number one tip is to place housing in the most open space available, but where the colony can be enjoyed and monitored.

More information about purple martins can be obtained from the Purple Martin Conservation Association, which is focused on aiding martins and landlords. An information and supplies booklet is available to help landlords. The booklet contains advice on attracting and managing a colony and has data sheets to participate in a “citizen science” program called Project Martin Watch, a national effort in which participants monitor nests and mail information to the PMCA at season’s end. To obtain the booklet, contact the PMCA at 814-833-7656 or online at www.purplemartin.org. The website also has an active Forum, and many hobbyists participate in the group’s Facebook page.

The Way It Was

As Published in The Tompkinsville News

50 YEARS AGO
(February 1962)

The visitor problem at the Monroe County War Memorial Hospital has made new rules necessary, hospital officials have announced. For the past 1½ years, the visitors’ waiting room at the front entrance of the building has been used as a ward containing six beds, with the back door of the hospital the only entrance and exit used by patients, personnel and visitors. The new policy puts the waiting room back into use for visitors and sets strict visiting hours (2-4 p.m. and 7-8:30 p.m.), with a receptionist on duty 1-9 p.m. to issue visitors’ passes. Visitors will be admitted via the front entrance only and will not be admitted to corridors or rooms without a pass. Two visitors will be admitted at a time and are requested to stay no longer than 30 minutes each.

Dr. Tim Lee Carter, Dr. Wendell Hurt and Dr. James E. Carter have invited the public to attend an open house Sunday afternoon, Feb. 18, at the new Carter, Hurt and Carter Clinic at 805 No. Main Street in Tompkinsville. Everyone is also invited to an open house that afternoon at the new location of Pure Drug Company (807 No. Main, next door to the clinic), by Tom Willett, manager. The drug store moved from its former location in the Green Building on Feb. 12.

Sam Napier, Gamaliel, and Mrs. Ralph Burnett, Flippin, were elected to the Board of Directors of the Monroe County Fair Association during a recent meeting of representatives of the charter organizations of the Fair Association. Other members of the Board are Dr. R.D. Starnes, Dr. William W. Carter, Morris Bartley, Mrs. Jack Wade and John Douglas Evans.

The Tompkinsville FFA chapter recently observed National FFA Week. Officers of the THS chapter are: Ronnie Rush, president; Roy Myatt, vice president; Evans Wright, secretary; Winston Hale, treasurer; Charlie Strode, reporter; and Dennis Bartley, sentinel. Robert Miller and Royce Gettings are advisors.

Gamaliel High School crowned Patsy Lee Copass, a senior cheerleader and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Copass, as Basketball Homecoming Queen during their game with Austin Tracy on Feb. 2 (GHS won 57-54, led in scoring by Alonzo Ford). Senior members of the basketball squad were also introduced — Alonzo Ford, Roy Lee Crowe, Philip Pitcock and Joe Gillenwater.

Local winners of the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow were Myra B. Howard at Tompkinsville High School, and Ann Waitman at Gamaliel High School. Each received the highest score in her school in the knowledge and aptitude test on homemaking given to senior girls earlier this year and will be entered in state competition.

The junior class of Tompkinsville High School presented its annual program on Feb. 1, with a one-act play “Whar’s De Groom?” directed by Mrs. Oscar Martin and a minstrel show directed by Mrs. Jack Alexander. Appearing in the play were Kenneth Carter, Robert Ross, Bob Norman, Hugh Tim Froedge, James Earl Goad, Hilda Dodson, Barbara Conkin, Jackie Ferguson, Paula Hammer, Jimmie Bryant, Larry Moore, Joyce Hood, Brenda Marrs, Jackie Head, Gladylene Hood, Brenda Bowman, Judy Profit and Betty Gail Bartley. Ronnie Turner was interlocutor of the minstrel show, with John David Walden, Jack Ray, Isaac Butler, Maxey Bedford and Benny Williams as end-men. Hilda Dodson was featured vocalist, with a chorus of approximately 30. A dance routine was given by Betty Francis, Wanda Francis and Loretta Endicott.

Mrs. Lenola Thompson, 42, and her son-in-law, Ernest Junior England, 23, both of Tompkinsville, were killed when the car in which they were riding left the road on a curve near Hermitage Springs, Tenn., and overturned on Feb. 3.

WHERE IN THE WORLD IS THE TOMPKINSVILLE NEWS?

GRAND CAYMAN ISLANDS

Diana Proffitt of Tompkinsville, her son Chris Proffitt and his son Eli Thomas Proffitt, both of Bowling Green, show off their copy of the Tompkinsville News while traveling to Grand Cayman Islands. The three generations vacationed there in February.

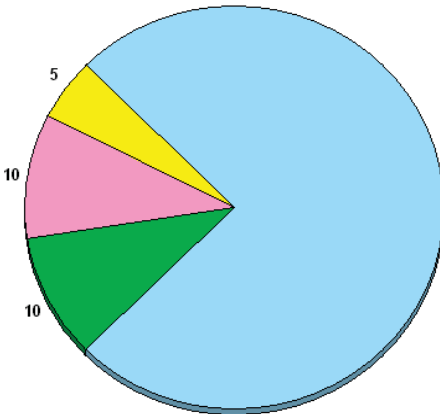

SPOKANE VALLEY, WASHINGTON

Michael, Benji, and Andrew Blohm, sons of Phil and EJ Blohm, show off their copy of the Tompkinsville News at the top of Eagle Peak in Spokane Valley, Wa. Formerly of Tompkinsville, the Blohms recently moved to Washington state to complete further missionary training with Moody Aviation. Their neighborhood is visible in the background.

Monroe County Fire and Rescue members respond to trailer fire in Tompkinsville

Monroe County Fire and Rescue members responded to a trailer fire on Wednesday, March 14, at the home of Carl Hutcherson, Summers Rd., Tompkinsville. According to Fire Chief Toby Chapman, the trailer (which was being used for storage) and an out building which had lawnmowers stored in it, were both a complete loss. Firemen were on scene for approximately two hours, he said.

Schools place in recent BETA competition

MCMS Jr. Beta Club's Special Talent group takes second place

TES Jr. Beta Club's Living Literature takes first place; Spotlight Your School takes third place

MCMS Jr. Beta Club's Special Talent group consisted of Drew Hamilton, Amber McIntyre, Alexa Rich, and Ashley Gearlds. This group received second place out of over 50 entries at the State Jr. Beta Convention held recently in Louisville. The group sang "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot". A video of the group can be found on the school's website, www.mcms.monroe.kyschools.us.

GES Jr. Beta Club's Living Literature takes third place overall; qualifying for national competition in June

GES Jr. Beta North Carolina Bound! GES Jr. Beta students competed in various events at the state convention at Louisville in February. Students who competed in the Living Literature event won 3rd place overall and received a bid to the National Jr. Beta Convention in July at Greensboro, North Carolina. The Living Literature category designates that students replicate a scene in a book. This year, GES students dressed up from a scene in the book Magic School Bus – In a Beehive!

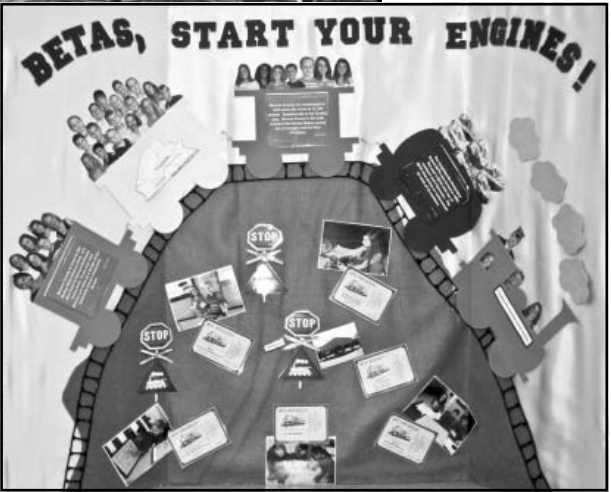

Editor's note: All photos on this page were submitted by their respective school staff. Remember the deadline to submit school news and photos is Mondays at 5 p.m. A note to parents and teachers, if your child or students have not been featured recently, contact your school to encourage them to submit news on a weekly basis.

"BETAS, Start Your Engines!" takes 3rd place in Spotlight Your School category.

Free college admissions, financial aid book sent to high schools

Copies of the 38th edition of “Getting In,” the state’s premier book about college admissions and financial aid, have been sent to high schools across the Commonwealth for distribution to students in the Class of 2013. “Getting In” is available free from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA). The 144-page book includes sections about:

- Entrance exams;
- Adjusting to college life;
- Finding financial aid;
- Major financial aid programs; and
- Kentucky colleges and universities.

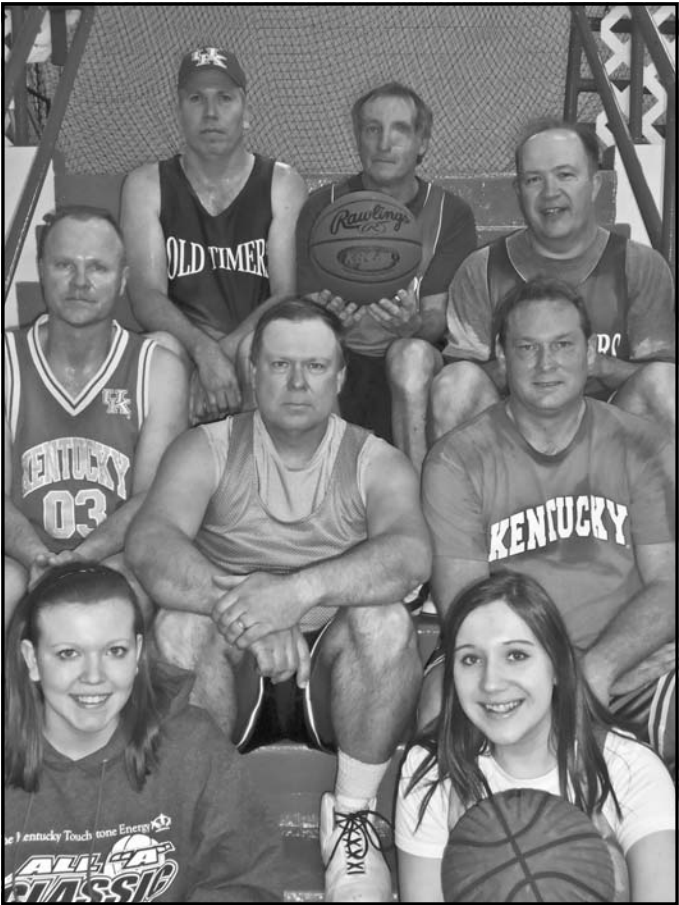

Copies of “Getting In” can be ordered by e-mailing publications@kheaa.com or by calling (800) 928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

New website lets students send transcripts to colleges

Kentucky high school students have a new resource to easily send their transcripts to colleges and universities in the Commonwealth. Through the website www.kytranscript.org, students can manage the release of their transcripts to participating Kentucky colleges and universities. The site is provided free by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA). It is powered by the XAP Corporation. The new site replaces the former www.GoHigherKY.org. Students who had accounts on www.GoHigherKy.org can use the same username and password to access www.kytranscript.org. Students who did not have a www.GoHigherKY account can create an account by going to the new site. High schools, colleges and universities interested in participating in the transcript exchange program should contact Pennie Little at plittle@kheaa.com or (502) 696-7495. KHEAA is the agency that administers state grant, scholarship and savings programs and provides free college and financial aid planning publications to Kentuckians. To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, Ky., 40602; or call (800) 928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

News from Gamaliel Elementary

GES Students Work to Conserve Energy

Students at Gamaliel Elementary School work with county Energy Conservation advisor, Bill Gettings, and their team leader, Julie Collins, as they study a recently installed Vend Miser. The Vend Miser was installed as part of a grant applied by Mrs. Collins. When it is applied to a vending machine, it turns it off when not in use, thus saving energy. After the study, the team calculated that it could save GES and the district as much as $172.00 per year.

The Energy Team has also been performing weekly checks to ensure all lights, computers, monitors, and active boards have been shut off after school. They plan to crown an Energy King/Queen of GES each week. They have also been involved in the recycling program taking place in our afterschool program. Students separate recyclables into paper and plastic products so they can be pickup and recycled.

Monroe County Tennis Team

Girls Tennis Coach Season Preview

— Erica Blevins, Coach
Looking forward into this year's season, what do you consider your team's strength and weakness?
We have several girls who are very eager to learn, practice and want to improve. We are a young team, still learning the game.

What goals have you (or the team) set for this season?
We want to improve our record from last year; every player wants to improve their individual game and add more singles matches.

Do you have team captains? If so, who are they?
Our girls' team captains are Cybil Gordon and Kaylin Stinson.

Do you have any seniors? If so, who are they and how do you expect them to help lead their final season?

Cybil Gordon and Kaylin Stinson are our captains and they will be helping the coach with practices and leading by example to this young team.

What message would you like to send to all children wishing to become athletes (play tennis)?
Tennis is a great sport at any age, because tennis is a lifelong sport. Tennis can be a team sport or an individual sport. To start kids early in tennis encourages self esteem, is a way for kids to become healthy and physically fit, and not to mention really fun while getting exercise. Players also build mental focus through tennis because of decision-making plus concentration is required every time a ball is hit. We actually have lots of youth interested in tennis, which is encouraging in building this sport.

Boys Tennis Coach Season Preview

— Garland Grace, Coach
Looking forward into this year's season, what do you consider your team's strength and weakness?
Strengths: We have great kids who are very respectful. Weaknesses: We are very young. We have only one player returning from last year.

Do you have any seniors? If so, who are they and how do you expect them to help lead their final season?
Evan Brown – To be a leader for this young team.

Dustin Bow - Provide great leadership for our younger boys.
What goals have you (or the team) set for this season?
To improve throughout the season
Do you have team captains? If so, who are they?
We do not have captains.
What message would you like to send to all children wishing to become athletes?
Work hard in practice, as well as games.

FINAL DEADLINE NEARS FOR NEW MONROE COUNTY HISTORY BOOK

All Monroe County residents and people with ties to the county are invited to submit their family histories to be included in “The History of Monroe County, Kentucky, Volume II.” Final deadline to submit material is April 30, 2012.

Family histories should be short biographies of up to 500 words and can also include a family photograph (optional). There is no cost for the family biography and photo (there is a charge for additional words/photos.)

However, a family may submit additional biographies from different generations or branches of the family (for example, in addition to the biography of your own family, another biography and photo of your mother’s family, and still another of your father’s family, etc. may be submitted at no charge).

You do not have to buy a book for your information to be included.

Material submitted for the book should be mailed to The History of Monroe County, Kentucky, Volume II, 38 Old Mulkey Park Rd., Tompkinsville, KY 42167 or dropped off at the Old Mulkey Meetinghouse, at the above address.

Other photos of historical interest also may be submitted for use as space permits in the historical section of the book.

This commemorative book, sponsored by the Monroe County Historical & Genealogical Society, will include a general history of the county and its communities, businesses, organizations and churches and will also focus on people and families from this area. The new publication will be a hardbound, 8½x11-inch book, published in collaboration with Acclaim Press of Morley, Mo.

For more details, call Sheila Rush, the Society’s book chairperson, at 270-487-8481; email sheila.rush@ky.gov; or write to the Old Mulkey address listed above.

This historic book will be available on a pre-sale basis only! Copies of the book may be ordered for $54.95 from the Monroe County Historical & Genealogical Society at the address above. Send check or money order to the above address by April 30 to reserve your copy of this limited edition printing (add $6 if book must be mailed). There is no guarantee that copies of the book will be available for purchase after the April 30th deadline.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS HOLDS TWO MEETINGS

Two Alcoholics Anonymous meetings are held locally each Wednesday evening.

A meeting is held at 6 p.m. at the Monroe County Sportsman’s Club, on Armory Road, in Tompkinsville, with another meeting scheduled at 7:30 p.m. at the William B. Harlan Memorial Library.

Anyone with an alcohol problem is urged to attend.

The Classified deadline is Fridays at 4 p.m.

119.51 ACRE FARM • WOOD FRAME HOUSE 2 BARN • TIMBER

AUCTION

SATURDAY,
MARCH 31,
2012
10:00 A.M.

LOCATION: From Tompkinsville, take Hwy 100 east 7.5 miles, turn left at the auction sign and go to property. Signs posted.

DESCRIPTION OF REAL ESTATE:
This farm consists of 119.51 acres with approximately 20 acres in grassland and the remainder in timberland. This property is improved with a wood frame house, a tobacco barn, and a stock barn. This farm is watered by a branch and springs with county water available on Hwy. 100. A copy of the new survey is available at Proffitt Real Estate Agency.

DESCRIPTION OF TIMBER: The timber on this farm is heavy in red oak, white oak, poplar, maple, walnut and other species. The type and size of timber located on this farm is very seldom seen anywhere on farms around this area. The purchaser of this timber will have 18 months to cut and remove this timber provided the farm and timber sells separate. More terms and conditions will be given on the day of the sale concerning the timber. For more information and a copy of a new survey, contact the selling agent.

TERMS OF SALE: Real Estate - A 15% non-refundable down payment will be required on the day of the sale with the balance due within 30 days. Possession will be given with deed. Timber - Timber will be paid for on the day of the sale, with full possession given on the day of the sale.

Note: The farm will be sold and then the timber will be sold separate with the option to combine the farm and timber with the best sale adopted.

TAXES: The 2012 property taxes will be prorated.

STANLEY and SALLY BROWN ESTATE — OWNERS

AGENT'S NOTE:

Mr. Timber Buyer, this is a farm that you should take a look at for this is a large boundary with some of the best and biggest timber you will find anywhere. It is a boundary of timber that is worthy of your utmost consideration. An added feature is that this farm is a hunters paradise with deer, turkey, and other wildlife in great abundance. If you are in the market for a farm that is just a few minutes drive from town then this is the one you have been looking for. Mark your calendars and come out and be with us on Saturday, March 31 at 10:00 a.m. for a good time at our auction.

Any announcements made day of sale take precedence over all previous advertisements or comments. All information contained in our advertisements has been obtained from sources deemed to be reliable. Sellers and/or Proffitt Real Estate Agency, Inc. and their employees cannot and do not guarantee it's accuracy. This farm will sell "AS IS, WHERE IS" both surface and subsurface. Proffitt Real Estate Agency, Inc. and their employees and sellers are not responsible for any accidents. LEAD BASED PAINT: This house was built before 1978 and lead based paint could be present. Make your inspections prior to sale date and be prepared to sign a lead based paint waiver prior to signing a sales contract on Saturday, March 31, 2012.
